Highline Public Schools

College, Career, and Citizenship

Personalized learning. Parent partnership. College-preparatory academics.

CHOICE Academy is a unique small school for students in grades 7 through 12, offering core academics in a highly personalized environment. CHOICE Academy is open to any student living within Highline Public Schools boundaries.

Relationships are key

Students don't slip through the cracks at CHOICE. In this family-like community, students and staff get to know each other well, and teachers nurture each student's particular interests and abilities. Classes are small, and students get plenty of individual attention.

Abbreviated school day

CHOICE students attend school from 8 a.m. to noon, Monday through Thursday, to take math, science, language arts, and social studies. They earn the rest of their credits outside the school day. After-school elective classes include digital media, photography, and journalism.

Students can earn credits through alternative learning experiences, such as playing on a sports team, taking music lessons, enrolling in a college class, or working on a community service project.

Students earn credits participating in team sports or activities they are passionate about.

College preparation

Students begin exploring post-secondary options in seventh grade. With their advisors and parents, students plot learning plans that will take them to graduation and beyond. In their junior and senior years, learning typically happens off campus.

Many students attend community college, earning high school and college credits simultaneously. Others go to Puget Sound Skills Center to learn a career or technical skill.

Parent partnership

Parent involvement is a powerful component of the CHOICE program. Parents help create their child's learning plan and electives, and every parent contributes as a volunteer in a way that matches their skills and schedule.

Small class sizes result in active student engagement.

A unique CHOICE

CHOICE Academy is a one-of-a kind school where students learn and thrive away from the distractions and teen drama that can come with a larger campus. CHOICE is a safe place for young people to find out who they are and what they want to be, surrounded by supportive adults and caring classmates.

Respect. Integrity. Compassion.
